

GETTING STARTED

SADD Starter Kits were sent out mid-February to every school in New Zealand—they contain heaps of handy information to help you get started with SADD. Keep an eye out for yours!

We have just received another order of the “It’s Not SADD To Be SOBA” t-shirts designed by Cr Michael Goudie of the Rodney District Council. The 2 previous orders sold in record time, so email your order to katy_sadd@xtra.co.nz ASAP! The t-shirts are available in black, loose fitting style in sizes S, M, L and XL and are $15 each.

Kia Ora,

Welcome back for another year with SADD! We hope that you have had a great break over Christmas and that you are well into the swing of things at school.

Everything has kick-started nice and early at SADD this year and every school should have received a SADD starter kit to help get you off to a positive beginning for 2010. With plenty of things happening throughout the year make sure you keep in touch with your Regional Coordinator and an eye on the website so you are kept up to date.

Our team is in the middle of planning for another series of great conferences in the Easter school holidays and we hope to see many of you there. Spaces are limited and registrations have started coming in so don’t delay, get in touch with us today!

We look forward to having another fantastic year working with you all and seeing what fabulous ideas you come up with to help bring the drink-drive road toll in NZ down.

Best wishes,

Julie Elliott
National Manager, SADD
